Volunteer Days

Join us for a day of stewardship projects on Pathfinder Ranches

Pathfinder Volunteer Days (PVD) is a boots-on-the-ground effort by sportsmen and sportswomen, private landowners, and wildlife conservation leaders in Wyoming to directly improve habitat, expand wildlife viewing and public hunting access, and strengthen conservation partnerships among attending parties. Projects include removing woven wire fencing and constructing winter migration gates for big game, building a spring enclosure fence, enhancing sage-grouse habitat and adding reflectors around leks. PVD is supported by the following organizations:
